

2. Defining the Problem

Sam is a farmer who needs to work smarter than harder hence found an easy way to monitor the parameters of the crop often and also to manage the water pump accordingly to water the field so that he does not need to spend more time on it and also it needs only less human power.